At the Opera House.

When Fisk produced "The Twelve Temptations," some eighteen years ago, Mr. Gilmore was then Treasurer of a Philadelphia theater. Little did he dream at that time he would not only own "The Twelve Temptations," but half a dozen other famous spectacles as well, and be the proprietor and manager of not only the handsomest, largest, newest and most popular theater of Philadelphia, "The Central," This is an example of what honesty, sobriety and strict attention to business accomplish.

This spectacular will appear here tonight. It is a play that none can afford to miss, being one of the largest on the road. Sixty artists are on the pay rolls, and with the necessary materials to produce the "Temptations" it certainly warrants the extra charge of 25 and 50 cents for reserved seats.

THE INCLINE.

A Scene of Bustle, Merriment and the Home of Good Samaritans.

Representatives of the APPEAL visited the Incline day before yesterday and found that lively camp full of lumbermen with no idle hands. The narrow gauge road, with its little engine, winds in and out of the thickly wooded forest with the lofty hills on one side and Tahoe on the other, whistling and puffing as loud as an overland passenger engine. The little wood cars on the incline move slowly along with their load, three going up full and as many moving down empty. The grade will average 45 degrees and takes the rider fifteen hundred feet above the level of the lake. All day the huge, throbbing cables carry these loads up and down, handling in all three hundred cords a day of two hundred car loads.

The railroad runs to Sand Harbor every hour, returning with several flat cars loaded with immense logs. Nelson Stubbs, an old Carsonite, handles the engine used for hauling logs from the water, and Charley Blethen, formerly of Carson, is an engineer on the railroad.

The business portion consists of S. H. Marlett & Co., our jolly Felix Delonchet being one of the firm. Felix is one of the few men who has been a resident of the lake for nearly fifteen years. Mr. Charles McFarlin, (the handsomest gentleman in the place) the book-keeper of the firm, is always on hand to extend his hospitable frankness to the weary traveler and smooth down the cares of mountain travel by making it a pleasure for one to stay there all Summer. While no actual provision is made for travelers and pleasure seekers, no one need ever fear starvation or the lack of some good place to sleep. Stable room, with plenty of the finest mountain hay, is always to be had.

The weather is excellent, with the exception of a little wind, and a number of ladies have located for the season to enjoy the mountain views and drink in the pine scented air wafted down the hills to the valleys below, cooling the brow of the festive woodchopper. Among the ladies are Mrs. Messenger, Mrs. General Marlett, Mrs. Ab Spencer, Miss Curtis and Miss Mylott.

Hy Downs and Charley Thrall, both railroad men, are there with their families. A short distance from that camp can be found Oliver Tennant, Dan Morton and Ajax Wheeler, who pass away the pleasant hours sleeping and spoiling grub.

This season will be a good one and millions of feet of the best lumber and wood on the coast will be taken out. The men are all sober and hard working, no liquor of any kind being allowed on the place.

Hotel Arrivals.

Sheriff Fellows brought in four more summer boarders for McCullough's hotel, consisting of a Chinaman, who has been induced to remain four years for attempted rape with the aid of drugs, and a batch of Indians, two squaws and a buck, who will stop with Frank for ten consecutive years on account of the well cooked food and burglar-proof room assigned to them. This term of years is the shortest time under the law for murder in the second degree or killing a witch doctor as they did.

Diseases of woman a specialty. m12 Dr. Fox.

On Friday last Wm. Phillip was struck by a skid at Steen's logging camp, Lake Tahoe, and his spine was so badly injured that he died in a few hours.

The San Francisco Post says, "Chief Crowley is camping on the trail of the confidence men." As long as he remains camped the confidence men are safe.—Oakland Times.

Somebody affects to have discovered that there are only four dozen "solid" knives, forks and spoons at the White House. This probably originated among the plate matter in some esteemed patent inside.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Sam Baker Nearly Killed at the Flume.

Yesterday at 2 o'clock, as Sam Baker, an inmate of the Poor Farm, was coming to town in a wagon, he encountered the wood train in passing under the flume. The wagon was smashed to pieces and Baker thrown upon a flat car. The train was backing up towards Oliver's at the time, and the flat car striking him, he was knocked insensible, and was so found by the brakeman.

Mr. Baker was in a perfectly sober condition, and had not been in town for over a month. He can only account for the accident by his failing to hear the bell or the whistle. The wood piles are extremely high on each side of the track, making it very difficult to hear an approaching train.

One of the horses was so badly injured he had to be shot.

Dr. Lee dressed his wounds, which consist of some bad scalp cuts, a crushed hand and a general shaking up. His injuries are not serious in any way, no bones being broken. Sam will be on his feet in a few days.

The price of silver is stiffening up again. It naturally declined when for a period the silver advocates seemed inactive, but now that the demand for free coinage is increasing, silver is braced up. When a free coinage act is passed by Congress and signed by the President the market price and the legal ratio will harmonize, and the silly people who have been talking about silver depreciating in value will be asking how they came to make such fools of themselves.

Card.

I desire to call the attention of the public of Carson and vicinity to the fact that I have recently sold out my entire stock of drugs and the good will of the business to Mr. A. E. Harris, who will henceforth conduct said business, known as the "City Drug Store," opposite the Postoffice. I desire to thank the general public for their generous patronage in the past; and I bespeak for Mr. Harris a continuation of the same, believing that it will be to your mutual advantage.

I am, respectfully,
W. H. CHEDIC.
